

TV HIGHLIGHTS IN AUGUST

OREGON LENS

It's time again to showcase some of the Pacific Northwest's most talented independent producers who are turning out works that surprise and challenge the viewer.

● August 8-11 at 10pm

Features include:

Semmelweis

In the Vienna General Hospital in 1849, one in three women died within days of giving birth. Ignaz Semmelweis, first assistant of the ward, embarked on a quest to discover the cause and cure and found a new way of thinking. (Jim Berry, producer)

A Brand New Life

A Brand New Life

The story of a Eugene family and the community coming together for the care of a 21-year-old landscaper and athlete stricken with cancer. (Michelle Mansfield, producer)

Comfort in This Circle

A young man who has seen his best friend killed right in front of him handles his grief and rage by translating his experience into a film to escape the cycle of inner-city violence. (James Winters, producer)

● August 8 at 10pm

Ridin' and Rhym'in'

This film profiles the courageous life and living legacy of renowned cowgirl poet Georgie Sicking. (Dawn Smallman, producer)

● August 9 at 10pm
